Set Apart, not separate

Separate from Sinful Brothers

Judge Those Inside

Small Group Questions:

Thinking about this week's teaching, was there a particular point, verse or comment that caught your attention, challenged you, or raised a question?

Why do you think it is easier to address the sins of unbelievers than of believers? How does that reveal confusion about the nature of salvation?

What is the difference between being set-apart and being separate?

Why do you think Paul calls us to avoid fellowship with professing believers that are in unrepentant sin?

Paul implies that we are to judge those inside the church. What should that look like? What should that not look like?

How does commitment to a specific group of believers change your perspective of accountability?
