Stewardship Integrity – Choose Trustworthy People

- Trustworthy people have pure motivation.
- Trustworthy people have good reputations.

Why these checks and balances?

- Trustworthy people have been tested and found faithful.

Our Practices

A Gospel-Centered Culture

- We humbly submit to accountability.
- Obedience is driven by love for Christ rather than fear of being caught.
- People do not worship God for money but with money.
- We are free to give money to those in need and free to ask for it when we are in need.

Small Group Questions:

Thinking about this week's teaching, was there a particular point, verse or comment that caught your attention, challenged you, or raised a question?

Describe a time when you have been involved in a situation where there was financial dishonesty in a church. How did you and others deal with this in the church?

Paul described how he sent men who had pure motives, good reputations, and had been tested and found faithful. Where have you seen that in churches and other Christian ministries in your life?

Does it make a difference for you if the organization you give to has financial integrity or not? Explain.

How do the financial policies at WPCC affect your thinking about giving?
