Thinking about this week's teaching, was there a particular point, verse or comment that caught your attention, challenged you, or raised a question?

Christ promises that as the door, he will save us, keep us safe, and satisfy us with good pasture. Which of these 3 promises encourages you most right now? Why?

Have someone read Psalm 23. How does this chapter encourage us and give us focus in light of the world we live in today?

Why do you think followers of Christ struggle to trust that Christ's care and abundance covers all aspects of life?

How are you currently experiencing "pasture" from the Good Shepherd right now?
