Address Conflict because People are Watching

Address Conflict by Pointing Them to Truth

Small Group Questions:

Thinking about this week's teaching, was there a particular point, verse or comment that caught your attention, challenged you, or raised a question?

What has your experience of conflict within the church?

What makes conflict within the church so difficult to navigate and yet so critical to navigate?

Why are we so hesitant to address issues with people face to face? What makes other communication tools less effective at dealing with conflict?

How have you seen conflict in the church affect those outside of the conflict itself? How have you seen that impact the community that the church serves in?

Why do you think hypocrisy is so much easier to see in others than in yourself?

How does a gospel-centered community help us to combat hypocrisy in the church?
